You can now specify an identification on the message being sent. Allows recipient to view and/or reply to the message.
Two options for message identification.
1. Specify Originator (Either your Mobile number or Company name) OR
2. Apply for a Virtual Number (Where your details are anonymous, and any reply messages are emailed to you)

Option One (Free Service) Originator		OR	Option Two (Charge Service) Virtual Number service
You can assign a Sender Identification (Originator) to be displayed on each message you send. This can be; -Mobile Number (recipient can reply messages to nominated mobile number - most common) OR - Your Company Name (displayed as the originator) Please select one of two options			You can apply for a "Virtual Number". A Virtual Number is simply a mobile number assigned to your company (an anonymous mobile number), therefore when a recipient replies to your message, the message is converted in to an e-mail format, then sent to your nominated e-mail address.
